

Consulting & Project Management

COMPANY PROFILE

FTG is Australia's largest independent commercial floorcovering consultancy, with a team of 5 consultants and project managers in Melbourne and Sydney with a new office being opened in Canberra as part of our ongoing national expansion.

Managing Director, Terry Emselle, is a second generation carpet consultant with over 15 years commercial carpet consulting experience. Technical Director, Noel Emselle, has well over 40 years of industry experience, including 20 years as a carpet consultant.

Our knowledge base is enhanced with our consultants having direct experience working in carpet manufacturing, carpet contracting and fit-out construction.

FTG is the only carpet consultancy with a representative on the Carpet Institute of Australia Technical Committee, which not only underlines our superior expertise, but ensures we remain at the forefront of carpet technology.

Our consultants have developed many of the carpet procurement contracts and strategies for major corporate and government clients. These include the current Australian Tax Office National Carpet Guidelines and Centrelink National Carpet Procurement Contract.

We have also worked on many landmark construction and refurbishment projects such as Victoria Police Centre in Melbourne (20,000m²), Foreign Affairs and Trade (RG Casey) Building in Canberra (40,000m²), Australian Tax Office Northbridge in Western Australia (15,000m²), the Executive Building (Tasmanian Premier's Office) in Hobart (10,000m²), Hurstville Tax Office in NSW (14,000m²), and many others.

Our passion for innovation and new technology is reflected in our pioneering work in development of occupied area carpet replacement systems, and is currently focused on new technology to enhance the sustainability of commercial carpets.

This wealth of experience enables us to work efficiently with the most demanding client, or work independently to simplify the entire carpet supply and installation process even in large occupied areas.

Many of our clients have so much confidence in our expertise and integrity that we are simply an extension of their internal resources.
