Profile

Terry Emselle

Managing Director – FTG Services Pty Ltd

Terry has been involved in floor covering consultancy and project management since 1983; initially under the tutelage of his father - highly respected textile consultant Noel Emselle. All the while he has been absorbing the knowledge and gaining the experience needed to deal with the complexities of all types of floor covering and the industries associated with them. He handled sales and marketing as well as managing major carpet procurement and installation projects in Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra and Hobart; the biggest being the 45,000m² Foreign Affairs and Trade building in Canberra.

Terry also played a key role in numerous national product development and procurement programs for organisations such as Purchasing Australia, Centrelink, Australian Tax Office, Myer/Grace Bros. and National Australia Bank.

As a project manager, Terry quickly gained the respect of both peers and clients alike for his fair and honest, “no nonsense” approach to getting the job done right, the first time. His ability to communicate effectively with everyone from CEO to labourers has enabled him to achieve results in even the most difficult conditions.

Terry’s entrepreneurial flair resulted in the formation of FTG Services Pty Ltd. which he took from the initial concept, through implementation and several years of exceptional growth. As Managing Director he now assumes total responsibility for the services provided by FTG Services, and its sub-contractors.

Terry is married with twins in secondary education. His personal interests include aviation (he is a qualified commercial pilot), gardening, DIY projects, travel, and spending quality time with his family.
